

ABSTRACT

5

A lifting tool for use with a standard rib or chest retractor device where the tool acts to obliquely lift and spread open an incision, the chest wall and ribs, the tool having a pair of 10 extended hook members disposed generally parallel and co-planarly on a mounting flange member.